Lina, a young phenom

Lina is fourteen and she lives in Casablanca. Every morning, she wakes up at six and runs on the beach before school. Her coach says she is a phenom: last year, she won the regional 800-metre race. But Lina is not only an athlete. She is also an activist. With her friends, she cleans the beach every Saturday and she asks people to stop throwing plastic bags into the sea. “The ocean is our home too,” she says. Her biggest achievement came in October: she organised a charity race and collected money for a local school. More than two hundred people ran with her! Her teachers think she is remarkable, because she works hard at school too. Next year, Lina wants to run for the national team.

Petit lexique : wakes up = se réveille · throwing = jeter · charity race = course solidaire · collected = a récolté · national team = équipe nationale
